Have You Anything For The Army Camp?

Two Youths Remanded On $3,000 Bail

LIQUOR CHARGE BRINGS $25 FINE

Few cases appeared on the list at police court this week.

Harry Kitchen of Schomberg, charged by Constable Farquhar with illegal possession, was fined $25 and costs or 30 days in jail.

George E. Anthony and Norman Clay, charged by Constable Ronald Watt with breaking and entering a booth belonging to Thomas Cook, and for theft of auto belonging to Gordon Stephenson of King Township, were remanded in custody for one week. Bail was set at $3,000.

Eddie Myers of Toronto, charged by Constable Wm. Hill with careless driving, was remanded until next week after part of the evidence was heard.

M. Holman of Toronto was fined $10 and costs for employing an unlicensed chauffeur. Constable Watt testified that Wm. Thompson of Newmarket was driving the truck belonging to accused.

Elmer Brown of Toronto, and Norman V. Graham of Toronto, charged by Constable Mount with speeding, were each fined $8 and costs.

Clifford E. Sweet of East Gwillimbury, charged with having bad brakes, pleaded not guilty.

Constable Casement testified that he was directing traffic at the intersection of Yonge and Centre Streets, and when he motioned for accused to stop, he was unable to do so. The service brake was absolutely useless and the hand brake was in poor shape.

Sweet swore that he had his brakes all relined three weeks ago. When he applied his brakes the car stopped and then went on. Later he discovered that the bolt which goes into the transmission had been cut right off.

This case was adjourned one week in order for the officer to check the brakes over.

Thousands Visit Camp On Sunday

PRIVATE CANTEN CAUSES WORRY

A few hours after its first drum-head service had clicked to a smooth military finish the Newmarket military training centre became like a roaring boom camp Sunday as thousands of wives, sweethearts and relatives poured into the compound to visit the trainees.

The rookies attended the drum-head service late in the morning, and wound up with a short route march through the town. Soon after lunch hundreds of cars churned up the dust of the camp "streets" as mothers and wives started a frantic search for their boys.

It was the first "at home" the camp had held, and the visitors were supposed to leave by 5 o'clock. But so many thousands came that camp officers gave up all hope of clearing the grounds and restoring order before sundown. "We'll have to wait until they get hungry—we can't very well drive them out," said Capt. Bert Dodgson.

The camp was built to hold 1,200 men, but by early afternoon nearly 5,000 men, women and children were jammed in the narrow "streets," so that it looked like a minjng camp on pay day.

It was a happy day for all but the harassed officers, who were besieged by the visitors seeking their boys in the bewildering confusion of the crowded camp.

Only one incident marred the day, and it was a situation which had been developing since the camp had been opened. A privately owned canteen, located in the heart of the camp, was doing five times the business of the regular canteen, operated by the Salvation Army. So bad was the situation Sunday that the Salvation Army officers said they would have to give up the canteen unless the civilian one was ordered out of business.

On Saturday, which was a fairly normal camp day, the Salvation Army canteen sold only twelve cases of soft drinks, while the private store reportedly sold sixty-seven cases. The trouble is that the profits of the Salvation Army canteen are to be turned back to the camp for the purchase of sports equipment, and the way things are going there won't be any profits.

REVOLVER SHOTS FIRED AT TRIO AT TRIANGLE SERVICE STATION

Attempting to break into the Triangle Service Station, corner of Eagle and Yonge, three youths were met by warning shots from the revolver of Tom Cook, Jr. Two of the youths, Norman Clay, 17, and George Anthony, 20, both of Toronto, were apprehended by the police and appeared in court here Tuesday.

The private canteen was allowed to operate because it is on ground not expropriated by the Government when the camp site was located. The canteen is a small house at the side of a road leading directly through the camp. After hearing the complaints from the Salvation Army men, who said their canteen was comparatively deserted, camp officers said they would do something about it quickly.

The drum-head service was conducted under brilliant skies, with Padre T. W. F. G. Andrews speaking to the men from a flag-draped pulpit. Behind him had been erected a great screen of maple leaves.

"As a compass is to the captain of a ship, so is conscience to each of us on the sea of life," the padre told the new soldiers. "How important it is that the compass be checked regularly so that the ship may be guided on its true course! It is equally important that our conscience be checked regularly, or something may prevent it from leading us to our true destiny."

"You boys should check your conscience by the golden rule and by the perfect standard. Bring your every-day conduct under the light and into the presence of Jesus Christ," he commanded them.

Newmarket Lions Hear Of Epitaph

REV. ARTHUR GREER ADDRESSES LOCAL SERVICE CLUB

Taking for his subject "The Epitaph of the Lions," Rev. Arthur Greer of the Christian Church delivered a powerful address to the local service club at their last meeting.

"Not often we think of epitaphs or monuments," the speaker declared. "Perhaps once a year, on Decoration Day. Perhaps we think it unimportant but it is, in that it spells our usefulness during life. It is not what is actually written on tombstones, but what ought to be written there."

"In old England, a century ago, there was a wave of competitive effort on the part of the peasantry to compose epitaph verses for deceased relatives and friends. When untrained minds become employed on any job, there is apt to be a high percentage of failure. This was no exception. These English peasant-folk vied with one another to compose most striking verses, and some of them are certainly striking, if nothing else."

Rev. Greer then cited a number of striking and mirth-provoking verses, the last being: "Here lies a man who did no good, And if he lived he never would, Where he is or how he fares, Nobody knows and nobody cares."

"This could not be said of Lions," Rev. Greer continued, "for Lions do something—and something good. We in the churches are appreciative of that. Last Christmas we were glad to harness with the Lions Club to provide for any needy family in town. There is just one thing amiss—that is the work of the church."

"We are not supposed to preach the gospel alone, but to

APPLE DAY GOES OVER THE TOP

The annual "Apple Day" sponsored by the Cubs and Scouts of the town of Newmarket, was much better than that of last year. The Cubs and Scouts were out on the streets and at the factories bright and early, greeting their customers with a smile. That smile went a long way, for when the returns came in the boys had made $115.00. The boys really worked hard. Even before the day arrived the Cubs and Scouts were busily gathering baskets, and tin cans (for money-boxes). This money is for the Scout organization. Fifty cents for each boy is paid out of this as a yearly membership fee. Also it will help to pay some of the bills of last summer's camp and the camp coming in 1941.

Mr. A. Hebb, editor of the Era, is on the Scout Commission, and he did a splendid job of buying the twenty bushels of apples.

The Apple Day arrangements were ably looked after by Scoutmaster J. Malcolm, ably assisted by the Cubs, Scouts and Cubmaster Hamilton.

This Saturday, weather permitting, the Scouts and Cubs, who took part in the Apple Day, are planning on a hike to the campsite of last summer. They will go by truck.

The paper collection two weeks ago netted the Scouts and Cubs $30.00. This is divided and goes to their own funds to buy equipment and books during the year. The Scouts and Cubs wish to thank the public for their most earnest support.

Those who were high in the Apple Day were: Scouts—Tom Dales, George Chantler, Bob McElroy, John Hunter, Orla Larsen, Bill Dennis, Bill Topper; Cubs—Don Davis, Ken Hunter, Mike McCaffrey, Aubrey Smith, Fred Case and Don Bovair.

12TH OFFICERS, MAJOR MUIR AND MAJOR CRAIG, STATIONED AT LOCAL CAMP

Many in Newmarket and district have been interested to learn that the officers of the military training centre include Major J. Murray Muir, who established Newmarket's first recruiting depot for the York Rangers in the last war, when the regiment raised the famous 12th battalion. It was also the first depot of the regiment in the county.

Major Muir became the adjutant of this unit in France, where it served as the 2nd battalion, Corps of Canadian Railway Troops, a special Canadian service created in the British armies. As the last adjutant of the battalion, Major Muir took part in the demobilization of the unit he had helped to recruit in York county. He continued in the militia after the war, and succeeded to the command of the York Rangers, with the rank of lieutenant-colonel.

Another 12th battalion officer on duty here is Major James H. Craig, the first adjutant of that battalion.

LIONS SPONSOR OUTSTANDING CONCERT FOR WAR WORK

It is with real pride that the Newmarket Lions Club announce that arrangements have been completed for an appearance here on Friday, Oct. 25, of the famed Ross Hamilton and his L.S.R. concert party of 35 from Camp Borden.

Who hasn't heard of Marjorie of the Great War days, and since when she Ross Hamilton starred with the famous Dumbbells. Well through the courtesy of Col. S. A. Lee, Camp Commandant of Camp Borden, and Col. L. H. Cook, Officer Commanding the Lake Superior Regiment, you will be treated to two hours of a fast-moving, peppy comedy revue, "The Sick Parade," on the evening of the 25th, at 8.15 sharp.

As the seating capacity of the town hall is limited, the entire space will be reserved, the sides at 50c, the centre at 75c, and the raised section at $1. Yes, we know that this is the biggest price ever charged locally, but this is the best show ever to be brought to town.

But aside from this, here is the low-down. The soldiers' cast and twelve-piece orchestra are giving their services gratis. The Lions Club is paying for every expense printing, advertising, lunch for the boys, etc. So when the total take at the wicket has been counted up, it will be divided equally between the Red Cross and the Soldiers' Comforts Fund.

There are no press passes. There are no passes to Lions. Every individual in the hall, with the exception of the performers, will be a paying customer.

Seats go on sale Monday evening at Best's Drug Store, at 7.30. Do not tarry and be disappointed.

EXPRESS THANKS FOR SOLDIERS' COMFORT PARCELS

The following letters from England and Iceland have been received from Privates John West, Fred Evans, Wilfred Pipher and Art Brymer. The boys enjoy letters and papers from home, and the boxes from the Veterans' Field Comforts.

Sept. 19, 1940

Dear Ang—
Just a line to say "hello," from dear old England. Well Ang, we sure would like to be home in good old Newmarket, where its real nice and quiet. I just arrived back to camp from a nice leave in London. Spent most of our holidays in air-raid shelters. The German bombers really give us a real bombing every now and again. We have seen them machine gun women in the fields, as well as bombing, however, I suppose we could call that war "eh?"

The English people here sure treat us wonderful. We only stayed in London two days, and spent the rest of our holidays in a city called Leicester, about 120 miles away. They treated us like kings, the best of everything, invited us to go and stay for as long as we like anytime.

I received your paper from Annabelle Smith. Thanks very much Ang for the news, as it sure is nice to hear from Newmarket. I met a chap in the Scottish here from home by the name of Chappel. I suppose you know him. Ang, I sure would like to hear from you, so please write a few lines to say "hello."

Also please say "hello" to all the gang for me, and thanks.

Jack.

Iceland, August 35, 1940.

Gentlemen:
I wish to express my sincere thanks for that wonderful parcel that I received to-day. It sure is a treat to me to taste Canadian chocolate bars and gum. The sweater, socks, gloves and balaclava sure comes in handy in this changeable country. You seem to know just the things that are hard to get here.

EDITORIAL

EVERY NIGHT SATURDAY NIGHT

The old saying "Every day will be Sunday bye and bye," has to be changed for Newmarket, to read "Every night is Saturday night now." Since the opening of the military camp Wednesday last, our Main Street has each evening, from 6.30 till 9 echoed to the tread of a thousand stout-shod soldier boys. Restaurants, drug stores and the show have been swamped with business, while other merchants who are open, are enjoying increased trade. The new camp is making itself felt in our business world, the printer, as well as all other lines of trade, directly or indirectly reaping some benefit. The Doubting Thomases who wailed when our energetic council swung into action and spent a few thousand dollars in providing the necessary equipment for the military centre, have long ceased to make themselves heard.

And those other individuals who bemoaned the day that these trainees would be let loose in our midst, are beginning to see the true picture—a thousand well behaved smart looking group of young Canadians.

ISN'T IT THE TRUTH?

Bill Jones, substituting on the editorial page of The Stirling News-Argus in the absence of the regular occupant of the column, says:

"It's funny, but the editor of a weekly paper comes in for more criticism than the average person realizes. If he goes to church twice on Sunday lots of folks think he's doing it for business contact purposes. If he doesn't go at all he's a heathen, wasn't brought up right and shouldn't be either spoken to or of. If he speaks to everybody he's too darned fresh; if he speaks to a few he's probably a fifth columnist. If he goes to everything he's neglecting business; if he stays at home his middle name's Shylock. If he can pay all his bills he's charging too much for his own wares; if he doesn't pay them, heaven help him! If he expresses his opinion editorially, through his own paper, he's wrong; if he doesn't express an opinion he's spineless and hasn't got any. If he doesn't give everybody's organization plenty of free publicity, he isn't a worthy citizen; if he gave them all a write-up he'd be run out of town. If he expresses his views on the war situation, the Government will tear out his tonsils; if he doesn't the folks at home think he's afraid to. That's the way it goes. Few editors are without a trace of white hair."

TOWNSHIP CLERKS

When people really realize the amount of work and running-about that is expected of township clerks and the inadequacy of the salaries that they habitually receive in return for what they do, there will be less competition for these jobs and less disposition to regard them as 'plums' at the disposal of the municipal authorities, says the Perth Courier.

It is a common impression that the township clerk is required to attend municipal meetings, record the minutes and sit in a comfortable office doing little more than to draw his salary.

But these men are obliged to do a very great deal more. Not only do their duties require them fairly constantly on the move throughout the municipality, but each and every one of them is expected to be an authority upon municipal law and to be able to answer almost any question that is asked of him.

In addition, he must spend a good deal of his time checking and frequently correcting the errors made by subordinate municipal officers and in certain municipalities what is conceived to be merely a part-time job thus becomes one requiring almost constant attention.

Only a township clerk really knows the amount of hard work, sometimes extending into the night hours, that he must perform if his duties are to be administered satisfactorily, how many problems must be wrestled with and overcome, and how much experience and capacity is required of the successful occupant of this office.

The office of township clerk is not one to be filled by any aspirant of limited or inferior qualifications. Since the clerk is commonly the 'key man' of the municipality, it is essential that he be well equipped for the responsibilities of the office; for a mistake on his part may well become most costly and involve the municipality in perhaps serious trouble. It is thus essential, for the welfare of the municipality that all those who serve in this capacity shall be thoroughly responsible and competent officials and that they shall receive a salary that is in some degree commensurate with the importance of the office.

It is the good fortune of this district that it possesses officials of this calibre to whom those who are charged with rural municipal administration may look safely for advice and guidance, and each of these officers must annually save for the municipality sums of money several times the salaries they actually receive.

FAMOUS SONG NOW BEING SUNG

There are few tunes which will impose silence on a group of nightclub revellers and bring even the most flip-pant-minded to his feet, but this is one of the tributes called forth by what is rapidly becoming the accepted war song of Britishers everywhere, "There'll Always Be An England."

The words of this moving battle hymn are simple and heartfelt, as witness this excerpt:

There'll always be an England,
While there's a country lane,
Wherever there's a cottage small
Beside a field of grain.
There'll always be an England,
And England shall be free,
If England means as much to you
As England means to me.

And, to show how much England means to him, the author of those words, Ross Parker, is now fighting with the British army. The composer, Hughie Charles, is also engaged in defense work in Britain.

But, in the intervals, they continue to give lyrical and musical expression to their patriotism and their love of country. Their latest, "The Navy's Here," has made an immediate appeal, and its popularity grows steadily as the importance of the senior service becomes more and more apparent to the Empire.

It is curious now to learn that "There'll Always Be An England" hung fire for many months, but it was written at a time when the war clouds had not become lowering, when Britain hoped that the conflict be averted. Published in April 1939, it was not until the war was declared in September that it began to be generally heard, even in England.

Then, overnight, it sprang into popularity. In little more than a month its sales totalled over 300,000 in England alone. Introduced in Canada, it sold 60,000 copies in record time and is a top seller on music counters to-day. Its Canadian publisher, Gordon V. Thompson, declared its reception by the public a record for recent years. There can be little doubt that the secret of the power of "There'll Always Be An England" is that it expresses in everyday language the faith and belief of millions of British people throughout the world.

SHIRINERS' CIRCUS AIDS WAR EFFORT

Proceeds Go to Canada's Defence And Needy Children's Fund.

"LONE RANGER" COMING

In announcing plans for the eighth annual showing of the Ramesses Temple Shrine Charity Circus, to be held again this year in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens twice a day from October 21st to October 26th inclusive, illustrious Potentate Murdoch L. Martyn and circus impresario Col. Bob Morton, revealed that 50% of the Ramesses Temple circus profits this year would be handed over to the Minister of National Defence to help Canada win the war. The remaining 50% will go into the special benefit fund for crippled children, a work which the Shrine has carried on successfully for years.

In addition, it was stated, Col. Morton has agreed to give 50% of his profits as well to the Minister of National Defence, and will buy Canadian War Bonds with his remaining 50%.

When asked what this year's program would include, Col. Morton found it difficult to restrain himself. With the tremendous enthusiasm he invariably displays as ringmaster of the "world's largest professional indoor three-ring circus," he exclaimed, "This year's circus is without doubt the best ever. In fact, it's stupendous. We're going to have 60 new sensations. There will be stellar acts from the Ringling and Barnum galaxy, daring and death-defying thrillers, 30 beautiful Broadway girls in a beautiful dancing ballet, the largest Broadway dancing and acrobatic revue ever presented with any circus, daring aerialists, beautiful riding girls, amazing performing elephants, funny clowns, acrobatic tumblers, trained ponies, wild tigers. There'll be thrills galore in this gigantic aggregation that is without doubt the best show on earth."

As a special "after show" or concert feature, Morton announced that the "Lone Ranger," the original motion picture star, would appear in person with "High Ho Silver," his famous horse, and a large company.

Illustrious Potentate Martyn declared that the Shrine's motto this year was "Be A Daddy To A Needy Orphan Kid," because they want to take every orphan, every crippled and underprivileged

THE PHONE

WHEN you wish to talk to a person, you can walk or travel miles to do it. But, with exceptions, you don't. When you wish to pay bills or make purchases, you can carry around with you a bundle of cash or a sack of coins. But, with exceptions, you don't. In the one case you use a telephone. In the other, you use a cheque on your bank. In either case you save time and effort by using a convenient modern device. And you use the one as naturally as the other. Canadians do make extensive use of the services of the chartered banks. Deposits in chartered banks at the time the last return was made to Parliament, totalled $2,530,000,000; cheques issued and debited to individual accounts in August, 1940, the most recent month for which returns are available, totalled $2,457,706,218. These figures show that most Canadian business is done by cheque and illustrate the extent to which the people make use of the banking system. The banks take pride in the modern services they provide for your convenience.

In war, as in peace, Canada's Chartered Banks maintain, uninterrupted, their useful services — safeguarding depositors' funds; facilitating the nation's business — looking forward to peace with freedom as the only sure basis of enduring prosperity.

BRITISH-ISRAEL

Mr. Arthur Conner of Toronto gave the address at the regular Sunday afternoon meeting entitled "Great Britain Is Israel." Being Thanksgiving Sunday there were only about twenty-five present, but Mr. Conner gave a splendid talk.

Rev. E. J. Springett gave an outstanding address over CFRB at 1.15 last Sunday. Next Sunday Mr. Roy Wemp will give the address, and the following Sunday we are to have Rev. Harvey Linnen. The next Sunday, Nov. 3, will be the regular monthly evening session in the Strand Theatre at 8.30. Everybody welcome. Listen every Sunday to Rev. E. J. Springett over CFRB, at 1.15 D.S.T.

A Thanksgiving Trip

By Golden Glow

What perfect weather we have had for our Thanksgiving weekend, and were the trees ever more beautiful? There seems so very many things to write about, but I think a trip along the shore of Lake Simcoe, and a visit to Sibbald's beautiful little church on Thanksgiving Sunday, and the graveyard adjoining should be enough for one week!

The weather has surely given us a break after our chilly, wet days of September, and especially a break over Thanksgiving weekend; warm and sunny, blue skies and red and gold maples everywhere! I had friends from Detroit visiting here, and I naturally wanted to show them something impressive too, so I showed them the military camp crowning Srigley St. hill, and believe me, they were certainly impressed. They had not imagined the extent of it. They know now, if not before, that Canada is at war!

We saw the soldiers training in the oval inside the race track, and I was proud to see how well they acquitted themselves, having only been training for two days!

Then I took them to Bogart's woods, southeast of the town, flaming maples, and some like pure gold! But coming west along Srigley St., they had an even better view of the camp. There were soldiers training and drilling everywhere, some marching, some having rifle practice, some doing physical jerks, while others seemed to be chasing each other round and round in a circle.

When I told my friends that all this had sprung up in a few short weeks, they could hardly believe their eyes! It is scarcely more than two months since the now famous Newmarket Training Camp was just an ordinary farm, situated on a particularly quiet road, where no traffic signs were necessary since nobody except the few living out that way, ever used it.

From the time I was last along the road to see the camp, more buildings have been erected, among them a huge garage evidently, from its appearance, and the hospital building to the north of Srigley street in Connaught Gardens.

The foundation for a cement sidewalk was being constructed. Let us hope the weather continues mild—yes, and dry—so that more work may be accomplished, for when it rains the whole place is a sticky mass of gooey mud, being of clay composition, I understand. Just think, there are 39 of these training camps all across Canada.

Now what side-tracked me—I started off to tell of a delightful trip to Sibbald's church, and the graveyard adjoining, and a visit to the grave of a former rector, Canon McGonigle, or should I say Capt. the Rev. Canon McGonigle, for he was padre in the last war. His body now rests in that most beautiful little cemetery beside a particularly large evergreen tree in the quiet "hallowed acre" overlooking lovely Lake Simcoe.

There are some of the loveliest trees I ever saw in Sibbald's graveyard, and some decidedly interesting memorial tablets! The church is also particularly interesting, being a real old-timer, with a quaint carved pulpit, reached by a winding staircase, with a gate to close the speaker in, once he has climbed the stairs to the rostrum. Some of the carving is exquisite, especially a fresco—no that isn't the word I want, for fresco is a painting, isn't it? I want a word to describe the panel that runs directly below the ceiling, all round the top of the church. It is carved in a beautiful design of grapevines, with clusters of grapes here and there at regular intervals. It must have taken years to carve! To me it appeared priceless!

But perhaps you are not interested in old churches! If you are then by all means take a trip to see that perfect little gem of architecture. The exterior is as interesting as the interior, being of stone, with a quaint square tower. Among the most interesting things are the Sibbald memorial tablets high up, on the western facade, and the gargoyles in the shape of ram heads that form water-spouts from the roof.

I do not think there is any drive anywhere that excels our "Marine Drive" round the east shore of Lake Simcoe to Sibbald's church, for you are not out of sight of the lake scarcely at all, and in many places the road, and a good road too, runs right beside the water. In fact, in one place the waves dashed over the top of our car once as we drove along there in a thunder-storm.

There are as beautiful homes as you will find anywhere, and oh the gardens and lawns, and specially the wonderful cedar hedges! So many summer homes have cedar hedges surrounding them, which certainly add to their beauty. Then, this autumn there has been no severe frost up to now. Why even the tender nasturtiums are masses of bloom. But the salvia! Oh, the salvia! Along near Sibbald's home, "The Briers," is a garage with a red tiled roof and all round it are flowing salvias. It is such a riot of color! And in other places scarlet and orange canna's, and so many French and African marigolds, making wonderful splashes of color. Everybody has quantities of fall flowers, and with the trees all turning to crimson and gold, you can quite believe me when I say it was one trip we shall not forget very soon.

Then, the gulls—such a picnic they were having! We stopped the car every so often to watch them "ride the surf," for Lake Simcoe was "showing her teeth," as the sailors say, and great, long rollers, crested with foam, were making things interesting to watch. Many cars stopped here and there to watch the wonderful sight. But the gulls—oh, they sure were enjoying themselves! They would go out far enough so that they are in no danger of being dashed onto the shore, and then ride the waves. We saw them in ever so many places, but where they amused me most was at the mouth of the river, at Mossington Park, where they would ride the rollers, and then fly over and have a rest on one of the piles marking the channel. It was a pretty sight, for each pile had its occupant, and when one flew off for another frolic with the white-caps, another gull immediately occupied the vacant post. How I love to watch the gulls! But I must draw this to a close. I'll be exceeding my space, so till next week, I'll say good-bye. (Queer how "Auf wiedersehn" and "Au revoir" are eliminated from our vocabulary the past few months!)

But before I do end up, may I enoach a bit more on the editor's space and say how the citizens of Newmarket, living in the vicinity of the fair grounds, enjoyed the drum-head service in connection with the soldiers at our Newmarket training camp on Sunday morning, and especially those near enough to hear the order of service through the loud speaker, the singing of the old familiar hymns, "Unto the Hills," "O God Our Help" and "Abide With Me."

Then the soldiers, headed by Newmarket Citizens' Band, marched from the grounds, up Lydia, down Prospect and up Srigley St. to their dining-hall in the camp. Those of us who were attending our own church services, were quite unaware of anything unusual taking place. It was a perfect day for an outside drum-head service, and many who also had Thanksgiving visitors would have liked to attend, I'm sure.

The altar was covered with a Union Jack, with clusters of crimson maple leaves, I was told. Capt. the Rev. Andrews, padre of the Newmarket camp, conducted the service. And perhaps I should also say that we had a shower Thanksgiving Monday, early in the afternoon, but the weather was so mild that I'm sure nobody minded very much, but none of us liked the severe thunder-storm at night about 9 o'clock.

IN MEMORIAM

BAILIE—In loving memory of Florence Bailie, who passed away October 20, 1939. Only a memory of bygone days, And a sigh for a face unseen; But a constant feeling that God alone, Knows just what should have been.

—Always remembered by the Peat family and A.

IN MEMORIAM

SMITH—In loving memory of my dear son, Kenneth Smith, who passed away October 16, 1936. The face I loved is now laid low, His loving voice is still; The hand so often clasped in mine Lies now in Death's cold chill. —Ever remembered by Mother.

BOYS WRITE HOME FROM OVERSEAS

(Continued from Page 1, Col. 7) for us to get overseas, such as toothpaste, shaving stick, blades and boot laces. I will say thanks once more for what you have done, and we'll do our best in winning this war.

Newmarket Veteran's Association Newmarket, Ont., Canada.

Dear Sirs: Received the parcel and wish to convey my thanks and appreciation for your thoughtfulness. It had been delayed and sent to "A" Company by mistake, otherwise I would have written sooner.

We had our first fall of snow two days ago (Saturday), so I guess winter isn't very far away. It was a very light fall and vanished almost immediately. The same night there was over quarter of an inch of ice formed over the water in the fire-pails outside of our tents.

All of the other fellows from Newmarket are near here except Fred Evans, who is with his platoon about one hundred and twenty miles from here. I have not seen him for over two and a half months, since a week or so after we landed here, but received one letter from him and he is getting along fine.

In a couple of weeks we are going to move into nissen huts, and if they will be as warm as they look, we should be quite comfortable this winter. There isn't much more I can tell as these letters seem to be more strictly censored than ever. The article in the Express-Herald by Golden Glow can tell more of the actual conditions from previous letters.

Thanking you again and hoping to be back in Newmarket soon, I remain,

Yours sincerely,
Arthur Brymer.

B67082 Royal Reg't. of Can. Iceland, Aug. 31, 1940. Newmarket Veteran's Ass'n.

Dear Sirs: I received your parcel Thursday (Aug. 29th) safely. It was a swell surprise and I wish to thank one and all responsible for it with all my heart. The socks, sweater and balalaeva are indeed welcome here, also the chocolate bars and gum which are very scarce in Iceland.

I am separated from the rest of the Newmarket boys, but I think they are all well. This is an awful climate to have to live in but we are well equipped to look after ourselves. It will be a swell change to go some place where we can speak to the people.

It rains here on an average of about 6½ days a week, accompanied by strong winds, so you can see this is really no picnic, but we have most of our work done now and are just waiting for old Jerry to come.

It takes our mail more than a month to reach us, so most of our letters and papers are history when we receive them, but gosh, they are really welcome, believe me. Well, thanking you all again for your kindness, which I assure you is deeply appreciated, I remain,

Yours sincerely,

F. C. Evans, Pte. B67082

Things

"Sounds"
How many sounds make up a day, from morning light to dawning grey? It used to be that nights were still, save when an owl or whippoorwill gave vent to harsh or mournful cry, if you should chance awake to lie. On the squirms might stage a rally and make our roof a bowling alley, for roll nuts from the chestnut tree with squeaks and grunts of fiendish glee.

But these sounds were a part of night; you felt they fitted in just right. Occasionally a cat indulged in Opera Grand, or madly lured upon an enemy he found, on his peculiar stamping ground. My love for cats is widely known, but these are times when I have shown an inclination strong and true, to throw things at cats, one and two. But still these sounds were nature's own, and only caused a little moan. But now, upon our peaceful night, come sounds of ears in violent fight. They do not run, nor do they glide, they seem to jump and slew and slide, while headlights glow and headlights glare, and strains of music fill the air.

Then, overhead you hear a plane, and breathe an off-breathed prayer again, for those who their sky vigil keep, while we below in safety sleep. And now, since our new road's gone through, I never know what cars will do. I used to know the sound they made as they went up and down a grade, but now, I often think a car is stopping here, my dreams to mar.

But maybe just my courage fails from reading wild detective tales. And then, as streaks of dawn appear, a sweeter, sound breaks on the ear—a bird note, sleepy-soft and sweet, a note of praise, the day to greet. I hear the kittens climb the door while they, their indignation pour, because it doesn't open wide and let them find their way inside. The younger cats their woes make known in many a minor undertone, while those whose years have taught them more, speak in a sort of muffled roar. Then hear their loud, contented purr as down they sit to lick their fur, or lap their milk contentedly, with tails out where no tails should be.

The coffee perks, the kettle sings—how lovely all these common things. Hear now, the sounds of day once more, the friendly hand upon your door; you hear the school bell on the breeze; the sound of wind among the trees; the roosters crowing here and there, the sheep dog's bark floats on the air. A plowman to his horses calling a tractor or a brown field crawling. The factory whistle bidding men to meet their day of toil again. A bugle calling clear and sweet, tells soldiers it is time to eat.

But in this land of normal sounds, where peace with plenty yet abounds, where thanks we give for what is ours, and pray that never alien powers will wreck the cherished, homely things, that to each home contentment brings. Give thanks for those who guard our land, and for our noble Empire stand. Give thanks that among men is still, a leader, like our great Churchill, and of our King and Queen we say, "God save them for a better day."

ITALY'S FAMOUS EFFORT AT INTIMIDATING U.S.

Italy's threat to the United States has been compared to the challenge issued to the absent cat by the drunken mouse of the fable. It is just fifty years ago this month since Italy issued its last previous challenge to the great republic.

On October 15, 1890, Chief of Police David Hennessy, of New Orleans, La., was assassinated by a band of Italians, presumably members of the Sicilian Mafia. Within a few days 17 arrests were made. These men were promptly indicted and nine of them went on trial. The jury found six of these guilty. This was some five months after the commission of the murder. A few days later a mob, led by a lawyer named Parkerson, broke into the jail, and shot, or hanged, 11 prisoners. Two of these were not American citizens.

A strong protest came from Rome. James G. Blaine, who was Secretary of State under President Benjamin Harrison, wrote to the Governor of Louisiana deprecating the conduct of the citizens of New Orleans, but in answer to the demands of the Italian Government it was set forth by Washington that Rome must look for redress to the sovereign State of Louisiana. It was fully a year later that the U.S. Government paid $25,000 to the relatives of the slain Italians, and Baron di Vava, who had been recalled, resumed his post at Washington.

In the meantime the attitude of the United States public had been one of rather hilarious defiance, echoed, or perhaps satirically admonished, by a New York Herald writer in some verses which began:

I am the American Eagle, and my wings flap together,
Likewise I roost high and I eat bananas raw.
Rome may sit on her Seven Hills and howl,
But she can't sit on me, see?

on Sunday.
Mrs. Minnie Wilson is visiting her sister, Mrs. Breckon of Sharon.

KESWICK

The Christian church anniversary services are to be held Sunday, Oct. 20.

The guest speaker on Sunday morning at 11 a.m. will be Mrs. M. Dearborn of Toronto. Sunday evening at 7.30 p.m. Rev. G. W. Hunter of Olivet Church, Toronto, (who is president of the conference) will preach the evening sermon. Providing special music at the evening service will be Mr. Gunner Knudsen of Toronto, a Danish tenor, who comes highly spoken of. Everyone who can attend will be welcome, and we feel sure will find much of interest and inspiration from these splendid speakers and music.

Mr. Munro Mann of Detroit, Mich., arrived Friday evening to visit his mother, Mrs. Thos. Mann, returning to Detroit on Sunday.

Judge and Mrs. Brock Currey of Gore Bay have returned home after a few days' visit to Mr. Joe Pollock's home, where they spent their summer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Gilroy and family were Thanksgiving guests at Mrs. A. Gilroy's.

Keswick Red Cross
The shower for overseas boxes, given under the auspices of the Field Comforts Committee of Keswick branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society, at the Royal Simcoe Hotel, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 9, was a great success.

The delightfully spacious rooms, where dancing and games were enjoyed by a large number were made a cheerful contrast to the outside autumn air, by the friendly glow of burning logs in the fire-places.

Many who were unable to be present sent their gifts which are thankfully acknowledged by the arrangements committee. Prizes for euchre were won by Mrs. Bernard Rye and Mr. Dan McGenerty, and for crokinole by Mrs. Selby Fairbairn and Mr. W. E. Morton.

The auctioning of a few articles by Mr. W. Davison added to the fun of the evening.

After a delicious lunch, Mr. Davison, on behalf of the committee, thanked Mr. and Mrs. Brown for their kindness in giving the hotel for the event, and also Mr. H. Walker for his assistance during the evening. Judge Currey of Gore Bay, who, with Mrs. Currey were welcome guests, briefly voiced their enjoyment at meeting old friends at such a pleasant occasion.

Those who were in charge of arrangements for the enjoyable affair were, Mr. and Mrs. W. Davison, Mr. and Mrs. C. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mahoney, Miss Gilroy and Mrs. Vail.

These are Christmas boxes, and will be packed next week. Anyone who still desires to contribute, kindly communicate with the above committee.

Keswick United Church
Mrs. C. E. Willoughby conducted the October meeting of the W.M.S. The theme was "Christian Stewardship." During the worship service, Mrs. O. M. King read a very appropriate poem, and Mrs. Bissell of Toronto sang in a very pleasing manner a hymn of Thanksgiving, accompanied by Mrs. Ethan Morton. Mrs. Gordon Lapp gave a very splendid talk on "Christian Stewardship." Mrs. Lapp gave as the interpretation of christian stewardship, the complete consecration of the whole life to christian ideals. She stressed the need of quality rather than quantity of service, of creativity, a full development of powers of self and the necessity of planning our time as well as our money.

Stewardship of health was very important as our bodies are temples of the Living God.

Mrs. W. Winch and Mrs. Polard led in prayers of Thanksgiving. During the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Vail, it was decided to hold a white gift service at the W.M.S. meeting to be held Nov. 14, at 2 p.m.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Lapp gave an interesting review of a chapter in the Study Book, "India's Rural Villages and Changes in Rural Life."

20, Rev. Mr. N. Anderson of Sutton will preach in the United Church. Rev. Mr. Lapp will preach at the anniversary services in Sutton United church in the evening. The choir of Keswick church will also take part in the Sutton evening service.

Rev. Mr. Gordon Lapp and Mrs. Lapp visited Mr. Lapp's mother at Brighton on Monday, Thanksgiving Day.

Mention was made last Sunday morning by Andy Clarke on his radio broadcast of last raspberries picked in Ontario. Mrs. Orvan Huntley picked about a quart of fresh raspberries off raspberry bushes at her home in Keswick. On Thursday, October 10.

On Saturday, October 12, a very pretty wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Horace James of Toronto, who are living in Keswick for a time when their daughter, Miss Gladys Marie James of Toronto, was married to Mr. John Leslie Paul of the township of Innisfil, Simcoe county. The attendants were Mrs. Brand, matron of honor, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Jas. A. Paul, best man, brother of the groom. Rev. Gordon Lapp officiated at the wedding ceremony.

A reception was held directly following the ceremony, at which there were about 20 guests.

NEWS FROM KING CITY AND DISTRICT

The following article is from a recent letter from Mrs. Dorothy Silk Greenland, to her mother, Mrs. Silk of King, written from Kingston, England.

"Just a hurried line to let you know we are still alive and well. I seem to be in one perpetual rush these days. The sirens usually go about 8 p.m., and then we have to get out of the kitchen and lounge, as they are too unsafe, so we sit in the hall passage. About 10 o'clock two girls who live in the upstairs flat, come in to sleep. We have the camp bed in the passage, and one sleeps there, and the other sleeps on a Lilo on the floor.

"Jack and I sleep in the bedroom which is quite protected by the wall of the opposite house, but I have space underneath the bed so that we can scramble under there. Night after night the Jerries come over, and as we have big mobile guns, and the A.A. batteries all around us, the gunfire is terrific. You lie in bed and listen to the drone of the engines, and then you hear the whistle through the air which means that bombs have been unloaded, and one holds one's breath, wondering if it will land in the house.

"Since the fire about which I wrote you in my last letter, Kingston has again been bombed. Do you remember 'Ye Old Post Office, right opposite the King's Stone? Well that is a wreck. I don't think there is a stone in Kingston or in the market place left with any windows. Bentals' has had it again and the Jerries said over their wireless they are out for them, as they are displaying a Junkers, the money to go for a Spitfire.

"The devils, now they have torpedoed this boat in mid-ocean, and 83 kiddies have lost their lives. We'll pay them back, and we were all heartened to hear that Berlin had been subjected to bombing for four hours. We are more and more determined to see it through to the bitter end. Such indiscriminate bombing and when our King and Queen were bombed at Buckingham Palace, that was the last straw, and they are doing their best to get them to leave the Palace, but I can't imagine them doing so. What a wonderful couple they are. Daily they are to be seen visiting poor, homeless people. We are all very grim, and it is just wonderful how everyone is adapting themselves to changed conditions.

"All the cinemas close at 9, and there is not a person to be seen in the streets after the sirens (Wailing Winnie we call them) goes at 8. I am using splinter-proof net on the windows to prevent glass from hurting anyone.

"It is really marvellous how grim and courageous the stricken people are, and the Germans don't know the British nature. When things are tough, it just strengthens our resolve to kill them and finish them off. Before I used to worry about my flat, but I am only concerned about our lives, as one can always get furniture if necessary.

"I have two suitcases packed with warm clothing in case we have to evacuate.

"Did you listen to the King's speech? How heartened we were to hear his courageous words. They are the exact sentiment of the people, and what a wonderful example they are.

"We shall be so glad when this war is over, but never will capitulate. Our navy and R.A.F. are wonderful, also the home units. There is splendid co-operation and everyone is helping one another."

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Riddell at York County Hospital on Oct. 4 (nee Muriel Thorpe).

On October 10, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wideman of Markham (nee Ruth Jennings).

On Tuesday, October 22, a congratulatory party will be given for Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Barker of Temperanceville, in McDonald & Wells Hall, King, the occasion celebrating their recent marriage. All are welcome for cards and dancing.

The birthday banquet given by King Women's Institute last week in McDonald & Wells Hall, was quite successful, and a happy occasion for all. The hall and tables were decorated in the high colours of autumn leaves and flowers. Mrs. R. Walker, the president, was toastmistress. Toasts were given by Mrs. C. Stewart, and Mrs. W. Rolling and replied by Mrs. C. Marchant of Schomberg, and Rev. D. G. Davis, Mrs. Blanche Stone-Proctor gave fine vocal solos. In her remarks, Mrs. Marchant, district secretary, explained that King City W.I. stood first in its war work of the North York Institutes. Mayor J. M. Walton of Aurora spoke on "Historical Research," touching on local interest and the building up of family self respect in the study of local history. He congratulated the W.I. in its great effort for the general welfare and uplift in the lives of the ordinary people. "The ordinary housewife, he explained, constitutes the soul of the community." Outside the church, no organization does more for our people, than Women's Institutes.

Mrs. Wells McDonald was responsible for the excellent connoisseurship of the banquet table, and she also made the birthday cake which was served to the guests. Her daughter, Beth McDonald, made the artistic place cards. Serving the dinner were Misses Evelyn Wilson, Beth McDonald and Dorothy Armstrong. Mrs. Rawlings ably presided at the piano.

Miss Elizabeth Tinline received many callers on October 10, the occasion of her 93rd birthday. Many beautiful flowers, cards and gifts were received, and all day the gracious hostess received old friends. Among these was Miss Selina Robinson of Maple, herself an honorable age. Miss Tinline performed these honours unassisted, capable to the last degree, in her hospitable home, and it was not until late in the evening that she gently closed the birthday door on the last of her callers.

On Sunday, October 13, Mrs. Elizabeth Keffer celebrated her 89th birthday at her niece's, Mrs. T. B. Smeltzer's at Lasky. A family dinner party at noon, with more guests at the tea hour, and in the evening, made the day a full one. The candles on the birthday cake, given by her niece Mrs. Ash, counted up to 89. Mrs. Keffer received many presents and cards and felicitations from friends in other parts. She is quite well and continues as usual with her expert piecing and quilt making.

Seventy attended the Corporate Communion of West York A.Y.P.A. Deanery held at St. John's Parish Hall, Oak Ridges, at 9 a.m., on Monday, Thanksgiving. Revs. Worrall, F. V. Abbott and Mr. Perdue dispensed the communion. Presiding at the breakfast table was the Deanery president, Mr. Beauchere. The address was ably given by Mr. A. C. Allan of Toronto, speaking on the reasons "Why I Go To Church." It was an inspiring address, as was the entire occasion. The fellowship is most gratifying to all the participants. Victor Dumbleton expressed appreciation of St. John's A.Y. hospitality.

Rev. Dr. Gordon Agnew, West China, will be the preacher on Oct. 20, at Lasky United church, W.M.S. anniversary day; on Oct. 23 a hot fowl supper and excellent variety program from talented members of Fairlawn United Church, Toronto.

On Oct. 20 Nobleton Anglican Church will observe Thanksgiving services, with Rev. Dr. K. C. Evans, Ph.D., of Trinity College, as preacher.

Mrs. J. S. Lawson entertained St. Andrew's W.M.S., Strange, at her home last week. Rev. Mr. Burch gave the principal address. Schomberg Institute are ar-
